THE PENNSYLVANIA, DELAWARE AND MARYLAND STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY,

HAVE the pleasure of announcing to their Citizens the CANAL LINE OF STEAM BOATS, between PHILADELPHIA and BALTIMORE, will commence running on Thursday next, the 20th inst.

The Steam Boat Norfolk, Capt. Jeffries, will leave Annapolis, every Tuesday morning, for Baltimore, until further notice, for Baltimore, at half past 12, noon, and, vice versa.

Until the Canal is opened, Passengers will be taken across the Potomac, over a good road of fourteen miles, in comfortable stages, with expert drivers, to the Chesapeake Bay. The Canal, when completed, will shorten the distance from Philadelphia, Capt. Crocker, will receive passengers, and arrive at Baltimore in season to take the Western and Southern Stages and Steam Boats, the following morning.

The road from Delaware City, to the West end of the Canal, is safe, pleasant, and in good order, affording an opportunity to the passenger of viewing the great natural works.

Those having superior accommodations, are in readiness at the West end of the Canal, and will commence to run, as soon as it shall be completed, which is expected will be in a few weeks.

The proprietors of this line hope, from their determination to render every facility, accommodation and comfort to passengers, to merit a share of public patronage.

LOVE CALLED ON ME ONE MORNING.

A Ballad, by Richard Ryan.

Love called on me one morning;
And sought my smile to win;
But forward boys then soaring,
I would not let him in.

I thought that love would weep
To be my forsaken;

Yet I took but one dry peep,
And found myself mistaken.

I'll search through all the city,

And meet the field and grove,

And ask the young and pretty
If they have seen young love.

Love flies as fast as the wind,

For wings he has about him,

And to my coat I find

I cannot live without him.

COMPARATIVE STATISTICS.

In a table recently published by the indefatigable M. Hallé, entitled the French Monarchy compared with the other principal States of the Globe, are given the following curious comparative calculations:

ECONOMY IN A FAMILY.

There is nothing which goes so far towards placing young people beyond the reach of poverty as economy in the management of their domestic affairs.

It is as much impossible to get a ship across the Atlantic with half a dozen busts started, or as many bolt holes in her bottom, as to conduct the concerns of a family without economy.

It matters not whether a man conduct little or much for his family if there is a continual leakage in the kitchen, or in the parlour; it runs away, he knows not how; and that demon waste, cries more like horse leech's daughter, until he that provides has no more to give.

It is the husband's duty to bring into the house, and it is the duty of the wife to see that nothing goes wrongfully out of it;

not the least article, however unimportant in itself, for it establishes a precedent; nor under any pretence, for it opens the door for ruin to stalk in, and he seldom leaves an opportunity unimproved.

A man gets a wife to look after his affairs, to assist him in his journey through life, to educate and prepare his children for a proper station in life, and not to dissipate his property.

The husband's interests should be the wife's care, and her greatest ambition carry her no further than his welfare and happiness, together with that of her children. This should be her sole aim, and the theatre of her exploits is in the bosom of her family, where she may do as much towards making a fortune as he possibly can in the counting room or workshop. It is not the money earned that makes a man wealthy; it is what is saved from his earnings. A good and prudent husband makes a deposit of the fruits of his labor with his best friend; and if that friend be not true to him, what has he to hope; if he dare not place confidence in the companion of his bosom, where is he to place it?

A wife acts not for herself only, but she is the agent of many she loves, and she is bound to act for their good, and not for her own gratifications. Her husband's good, is the end at which she should aim, his probation is her reward. Self-gratification in dress or indulgence in appetite, or more company than his purse can well entertain, are equally pernicious. The first adds vanity to extravagance—the second fastens a doctor's bill to a long butcher's account, and the latter brings intemperance, the worst of all evils in its train.

COURT OF KING'S BENCH, Feb. 22.

FELLOWS AND ANOTHER v. WILLIAMSON.

Mr. CAMPBELL (with whom was Mr. Follett)

stated the case for the plaintiffs. This action was brought to recover compensation in damages for a loss sustained by the plaintiff in consequence of a deceitful representation made by the defendant of the credit of one William Duffy, by which the plaintiff were induced to trust Duffy with goods to a large amount, at a time when he was in insolvent circumstances. An alteration had been lately made in the law applicable to actions of this description, which would not be found to be extremely salutary; but the act of Parliament, which had originated under very high auspices, had not come into operation at the time the present action was brought, and this case therefore was unaffected by it. The plaintiffs, Messrs. Fellows and Berry, were silk brokers, carrying on business in Old Broad street, and the defendant was a silk manufacturer at Coventry. For some time prior to the year 1826, the defendant and William Duffy carried on business as partners, Duffy residing in London, and the defendant at Coventry. In December, 1825, their partnership was dissolved, and soon afterwards, the defendant, who conducted the partnership business in London, commenced business on his own separate account, having taken up his residence in Spital square. He had no capital of his own, and was therefore obliged to procure goods on credit. In May, 1827, he applied to the plaintiffs through the medium of Mr. Hemmell, a broker, to open an account with them, and selected a quantity of goods to the amount of about £1000, and sent them to the defendant.

TO BE LET,

A house recently thoroughly repaired, having a fine cistern, hydrant, and other conveniences, and pleasantly situated in the lower part of the city. It would be rented to a person having a small family, and children, and a few servants.

The owner being absent, leaving the city for a few months, wishes to board in the house on his return.

A note addressed to R. N. giving name and residence, and left at this office immediately, will meet with attention.

PEASANT,

Pottsville.—Great preparations are making in this place for the purpose of putting up a large number of buildings during the present season. The ten buildings situated on Coal street, and one situated on Mahantango street, and known as "Clinton Row," which was put up by Mr. Jacob Auer, an enterprising citizen of Philadelphia, will be ready for the reception of families in the course of the present month. We are also pleased to state that a number of substantial brick buildings will be erected. This is as it should be, as they will greatly add to the beauty and appearance of the town. Most here are very high; a two-story building on the main-street will command a rent of between $7,000 and $8,000 dollars per annum. Capitalists could not lay out their money in better advantage than by purchasing lots and building upon them, as at the rate of rents above stated, they would realize an interest of from 12 to 15 per cent. on the capital stock invested, without taking into consideration the increase in value the property undoubtedly would undergo.—Miner's Journal.

St. Louis (Missouri), April 14.—Lieut. Burrows, of the U. S. Topographical Engineers, arrived in town on Sunday last, on his return from a survey of the Rock River and Des Moines Rapids. We understand, that Lieut. B. is quite favourable of the practicability of removing these obstructions to the navigation of the upper Mississippi. Should this measure, which is the preparatory step, has been so vigorously pursued, be followed up with corresponding zeal by the General Government, we may expect to have, at no distant time, a free and uninterrupted communication with the important section of country bordering on this river.

Mr. F. C. Clifton, a citizen of Galena, Illinois was killed in the latter part of last month, at Dugaldville, about five miles from Galena, in a encounter with Henry Richardson and James Wells. Mr. Vanname (Mr. Clifton's partner) was wounded at the same time, by the ball, which went through his thigh, and penetrated the body of the latter. Mr. C. received a wound from another discharge. He was two or three hours the dispute arose about the ownership of a piece of land, leased from the United States—the right to which, a jury of the vicinage had determined to be is Richardson and Wells—and of which they were in possession.

We learn from the Boston Palladium, that on Thursday afternoon, as the steam boat Robin Hood was returning from Charlestown to Quincy, and had arrived off Fort Independence, the Captain, Jacob Lovell of Weymouth, having occasion to go into the hold, as he rose from his stooping position, was struck on the head by the main shaft of the engine; his skull was separated by the blow and he died instantly. Capt. Lovell was in his 26th year, and has left a wife and three children to mourn his sudden death.

Montreal, April 27.—The steam boats on the Ottawa have commenced running this season.—The William King arrived at Bytown on her first trip from Grenville, on the 19th inst. being two days earlier than a trip has been performed on this route on any former season. The river was found by her to be perfectly clear of ice.

The boat for Point Fortune was expected to leave Lachine this morning at seven.

The roofs of buildings and the fields in the neighborhood, were on Saturday morning covered with a coat of snow, which had fallen during the night and preceding day, and ice of considerable thickness was to be found in all the streets in the city. In this season of the year such occurrences are rather unusual, more especially when it is recollect that a few evenings ago we were visited by a severe storm, during the continuance of which were many very vivid flashes of lightning. The snow has since disappeared.

We are happy to learn that the damage sustained at Bytown by the breaking down of the great dam at Hoo's Back, is not so great as was first supposed. It is now estimated that from five to six thousand pounds will be fully sufficient to form a new and more substantial dam than the former one. No injury appears to have been sustained at the works at the Black Rapids and Long Island, which had been reported. The works at the entrance of the Canal, and the neighborhood of Bytown, have recommended with great vigor, which will give employment to a numerous body of laborers, who have been suffering great privations during the last winter.—Gazette.

The Rev. Mr. Maffit, of the Methodist E. Church, preached last evening at the Methodist Church, in this town, to a very crowded audience. He is a gentleman of tall and dignified appearance, possessing great pleasantness of countenance. In the pulpit he is very eloquent, and speaks with all that pathos and feeling, which renders him so well qualified to fill the high and honourable station of a minister of the gospel.—What renders his manner of preaching so much the more acceptable and pleasing, is that he exhibits feeling altogether, seldom, if ever using declamation.—Georgetown, D. C. Gazette.

MAY DAY ROGUEY.

On Saturday morning a couple of very respectable young women called at the Police Office, for the purpose of making an inquiry respecting a carman who had been helping them to remove. It seems they hired the carman in Chatham square to take a load of goods from Greenwich-street to Canal-street. They did not take his name or his name. One of the females could only describe him by saying he was a "small, good-looking man, very neatly dressed, with a pair of tolerably nice fashionables whiskers." They came to the Police Office to find out his name; but there are so many tolerably good-looking fellows with whiskers, who are acquainted with that office, that no information could be given.—We learned, that during the removal of May day, a species of roguery had been practised upon the citizens to some extent. A rogue dressed himself up like a carman—hides a cart and horse—takes his stand—engages to move a load of goods to a certain section of the city, and that is the last that is heard of him.—N. Y. Enquirer.

GEORGIA SUGAR.

Last year Mr. John Mizelle, residing on the head waters of Spanish creek, Camden county, produced from a spot of pine barren measured, measuring 86 yards or 168 feet square, 3-1-2 barrels of superior quality sugar, and 1-1-2 barrels dripped molasses—average weight of sugar, 230 lbs., 805 lbs. Molasses, 48 gallons.

Mr. J. Houston McIntosh, who has just commenced the culture at his plantation near St. Mary's, has transmitted to his agents Messrs. Bayard & Hunter, eighty-six hogsheads of very handsome sugar, the product of the last season's crop of cane. This at $7 per hundred, at which a part of it has been sold, will produce within a little of $5000, to which must be added the molasses, &c.

No one can doubt, from the facts we have from time to time stated, not only that our soil is every way calculated for the production of this valuable necessary of life, but that it holds out greater inducements to the cultivator than the production of most other articles to which his attention has been or can be devoted.—Southern Georgia.

A pretty severe white frost was experienced on Saturday and Sunday nights last in the vicinity of the City. We trust no injury will be sustained by the fruit. Since writing the above, we have been informed by a gentleman, that there was ice at the 16 Mile House, between this and Georgetown, and higher up in Santeet. Many planters in the neighbourhood are re-planting their Cotton.—Charleston City Gazette.

The N. Y. Gazette states, that on Saturday afternoon, as one of the Brooklyn steamboats was passing between that village and this city, a young man, named Johnson, and by trade a carpenter, suddenly plunged overboard from the bow of the vessel. The engine was stopped as soon as possible, and in a short time the young man was seen rising to the surface of the water stern of the boat, under which he had passed. A boat immediately put off to him from a schooner in the river, by which he was picked up and conveyed to the steamboat, having received no injury. When asked whether he felt grateful for the exertions that had been made to rescue him, he coldly replied—"No! He gave no explanation of the circumstances which impelled him to the commission of the rash act.

whether the shedding teeth, from tooth which are no worn, greatly depends the goodness of the constitution of the child, and his good health during life.

For the benefit of the young generation, while parents are anxious to have their children educated, it is advised them to buy this book, and to the Saturday afternoon, on the teeth which are never shed, which will be more important than writing on the teeth—tooth

by tooth, as presented.
